

Managed services for electronic trading and EDI for the middle-market company

Win new business and maintain preferred supplier status with your key accounts. Redtail's simple-to-use, cost-effective outsourced EDI service works directly with your back-office accounting system.

The Redtail EDI service was created to enable mid-market companies to trade electronically with large customers in retail, grocery, manufacturing, and automotive segments. quickly, easily, and cost-effectively.

As simple to use as email

The user interface is intuitive and can be used by personnel at all levels. Multiple processes/trading relationships can be consolidated through a single, simple interface that adapts to workflow.

Comprehensive support integrated to accounting and business systems

The Redtail Transaction Manager™ integrates with a number of the most popular accounting systems streamlining the order-shipping-invoice transaction cycle. Redtail supports business rules, mapping requirements, communication protocols, and testing requirements for more than 150 large enterprises- eliminating the need for internal expertise and administrative overhead.

Saves significant time and money

Redtail Solutions is a transaction-based service that requires no investment in complex software or costly consulting. Pay only for the number of transactions processed, plus a low monthly maintenance fee. There are no hidden or additional charges.
